EMS ENERGY INSTITUTE ENERGY XCHANGE SEMINARS

The Spring 2014 EMS Energy Institute’s clean energy seminar series starts January 22!

The EMS Energy Institute has an excellent line-up of speakers for the Spring 2014 semester. Topics include, coalbed methane, coal, biomass energy, gas turbine engines, fuel cells, and chemical looping technology. Speakers will address, research, policy, new technologies, and more.

- Turgay Ertekin - Penn State
- Joe Hirschi - Illinois Clean Coal Institute
- Michael Palko - PA Bureau of Forestry
- Tom Litzinger - Penn State
- Shannon Angielski - Coal Utilization Research Council
- Rick Kerr - Delphi Automotive
- L.-S. Fan - The Ohio State University

Energy Exchange is hosted by the EMS Energy Institute as part of the Institute’s outreach mission. The seminars focuses on highly relevant energy topics, especially in the area of fossil fuels.

The seminars will be held every other Wednesday beginning on January 22. Speakers include Penn State faculty as well as industry professionals. The talks will take place from 10 am to 11 am in C213 Coal Utilization Laboratory. Join us early for refreshments. Students and faculty will also have the opportunity to meet with external speakers prior to or following the talks.

For additional information on individual speakers and presentations, visit the Energy Exchange section of the EMS Energy Institute’s website. (Please see attached flier for more dates & information about topics)

2014 GRUNDY HAVEN STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION

Want to earn $1,000, get published, and have something impressive to put on your résumé? Then enter the Grundy Haven Paper Competition!

Each year our college fosters excellence in writing by sponsoring this competition that gives you a chance to adapt a paper you’ve written for an academic setting, or perhaps a professor or from a conference—or maybe one that you began from scratch just because you were interested in the topic—to a nontechnical audience.

You can find out more at http://www.ems.psu.edu/current_undergrad_students/grundy_haven. Deadline for submission is February 15, 2014.

Make sure to check out the winning papers from the past 4 years too. Then make an appointment with our Giles Writer-in-Residence, Del Bright (kdb9@psu.edu) to get you on your way!
GLOBAL RENEWABLE ENERGY EDUCATION NETWORK (GREEN)

The College of EMS is offering funding assistance for an exciting travel opportunity that combines alternative energy and sustainability education in an international setting. The program, Global Renewable Energy Education Network (GREEN), will take EMS students on a 12-day experience to Costa Rica over the summer break. Funding is available for a select group of students. To apply for funding you will need to submit a brief essay that explains how this program would enrich your educational experience in EMS and potentially prepare you for your anticipated profession. You will also need to submit a current resume. The application is due on Friday, January 24th by 5:00pm. You will be notified of our selection decision on Tuesday, January 28th via your PSU email.

The application can be found at www.ems.psu.edu/emsgreenapplication

For more information on GREEN, please visit www.thegreenprogram.com

If you have any questions please contact Stacy Davidson (sjp123@psu.edu).

GRUNDY HAVEN DROP-IN HOURS & INFO SESSIONS

GRUNDY HAVEN DROP-IN HOURS

If you win the Grundy Haven paper competition you'll be $1000 richer, have an article published online, and have great experience for your resume. Getting help with your paper is a competition requirement, and is key to success!

There will be drop-in hours with the EMS graduate writing tutor (Ellen Chamberlin: epc127@psu.edu) this month to help refine your paper topic and work on your first draft. Come by the Ryan Family Student Center anytime from 5:30-7:30 on Wednesday, Jan. 15, 6-8 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 22, or 6-8 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 28 for help! Dropping in during these times will fulfill the writing tutor meeting requirement for paper submission.

GRUNDY HAVEN INFORMATION SESSIONS

There is still time to start working on a submission to the Grundy Haven paper competition! If you'd like more information on the overall benefits and rules of the competition, and want helpful tips for writing a great paper, stop by one of the Grundy Haven Information Sessions with the EMS graduate writing tutor.

The info sessions will be in Deike Room 008 on 1/16 and 1/23 from 6-7 p.m. Contact Ellen Chamberlin (epc127@psu.edu) with questions!

GEOGRAPHY RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES SPRING 2014

Many research opportunities are available to Geography majors for Spring 2014. These research opportunities will allow undergraduate Geography majors to gain valuable research experience and technical skills through collaboration on projects within the department supervised by faculty and/or graduate students, as well as 1-3 credit hours to apply towards graduation. This is a valuable resume building experience for undergraduate students and can be beneficial for both future employment and graduate school.

Research opportunity descriptions have been circulated via the geography listserv and are posted on a bulletin board between rooms 307 and 308 Walker Building; summaries are listed below. If you are interested in applying for any of these positions, please submit:

1. a one-page cover letter identifying the position for which you’re applying and stating your interest in conducting research, your academic preparation, and the skills you hope to gain from this experience
2. a resume
3. contact information of two references, as well as the
4. preferred number of credit hours (1-3) based on your availability this spring (1 credit hour = 40 work hours).

Please see the attached .pdf for more information. Contact Jodi Vender: jvender@psu.edu with questions.

WALK AMONG GIANTS-GEOG 493

“Sustainability Issues Across the Americas”-Maymester 2014 (Please see attached Flyer)

6 credits, May 14-June 8th
Tuition plus program fee: $3,650
For more information: Denise Wardrop, dhw110@psu.edu or Joe Bishop, jab190@psu.edu

EMS AMBASSADORS WANTED SPRING 2014

The EMS College is seeking student volunteers to meet with prospective EMS students and their families during the Spring 2014 semester. Many of our student visitors have been offered admission to Penn State for next fall and want to check out student life on campus & chat with a current EMS student.

Our EMS Ambassadors provide a brief tour of central campus and take our visitors to lunch in Waring Commons. In addition, students & their families are invited to attend an EMS class or two with you.

Why become an EMS Ambassador?
- Give back! Share your knowledge & experience with the next generation of college students
- Receive a free lunch in Waring Commons on your Visit Days
- Résumé builder & opportunity to enhance your leadership skills

Please let us know if you are interested by emailing Danielle Palmer: dmp35@psu.edu or stop by the Ryan Family Student Center Front Desk, 14 Deike Building, with the following information:
- Name
- Major
- Available Times (including lunch availability)

SPR14 GEOG 097A-GLOBAL PARKS & SUSTAINABILITY COURSE

Spring 2014 (3 credits)*; MWF, 10:10-11:00am; Schedule # 334207
*may count for GS, GN, US or IL requirements (requires substitution petition to student's academic college)

Imagine the parkscapes of the future. What is the changing role of conservation in society? In this course, we study parks and protected areas—both in the U.S. and abroad—as frameworks for exploring themes of sustainability, conservation, and socio-ecological systems. We examine exemplary national and international parkscapes, or parks and protected areas embedded within complex landscapes, to tell the stories of evolving conservation attitudes. These stories will help explain the historical, transitioning, and future roles of conservation in societies shaped by local (and global) change. For more information, contact Dr. Erica Smithwick - eus17@psu.edu

2014 STAND UP AWARDS NOMINATIONS

Faculty, staff, students, and community members at any Penn State campus are invited to nominate undergraduate students who are ethical leaders and have accomplished much during their time at Penn State. The Rock Ethics Institute at Penn State is seeking nominations for its 2014 Stand Up Awards honoring undergraduate students at Penn State's campuses who have demonstrated ethical leadership in taking a stand for a person, cause, or belief. The goal of the award is to recognize courageous individuals and to inform the entire Penn State community of how often the extraordinary act is possible in ordinary circumstances.

Selected honorees will receive an award of $1,000 each, be recognized at a Spring 2014 ceremony (also in a short video), and be highlighted in traditional & digital publicity throughout the University.

The deadline for nominations is January 31, 2014. Nomination information and forms are available on our website: www.StandUpPSU.com.

UNDERGRADUATE AWARDS 2014

The Undergraduate Awards recognizes the world’s top students from all disciplines.

WHO is UA for? UA is open to all penultimate and final year students, as well as 2013 graduates, of all disciplines.

WHAT do I apply with? Any individual undergraduate coursework which received an A grade.

HOW do I apply? It's simple! Register your intent to submit here, then submit your coursework by June 2014. You can read a submission guide for tips. Once you're registered your place is safe til June 2014. However, places are limited so register right away or miss your chance!

WHY should I apply? As a winner you will receive an exclusive invitation to the 2014 UA Global Summit in Dublin, your work is published in our academic journal and you are recognized as the top student in your field. Shortlisted students are also recognized for their excellence which can be a significant catalyst when pursuing further studies or your chosen career.

Questions? Email Bella at info@undergraduateawards.com

EARTH & MINERAL SCIENCES ACADEMY (EMSAGE)

The Earth and Mineral Sciences Academy for Global Experience, or EMSAGE, was formed in 2009 as a vehicle to foster our students' global competence and to promote a spirit of integrity, service, and leadership. By comprehensively embracing these principles, students will develop into leaders in their chosen discipline, while possessing the breadth and maturity to extend their knowledge to the improvement of society as a whole.

Who is a member of EMSAGE?
All undergraduate students in good academic standing are Academicians in EMSAGE. Academicians may achieve Laureate status through notable achievement in Scholarship, Experiential Learning and Global Literacy, and Service.

What are the Benefits of Graduating as an EMSAGE Laureate?

Students striving for Laureate status pursue activities and accomplishments that demonstrate breadth and depth in the areas of global awareness, professional and civic service, and leadership. Thus, Laureate graduates have compiled a resume that will provide a substantial competitive edge in the global economy upon graduation.

EMSAGE Laureates are formally recognized at a pre-commencement reception, are awarded a crystal Laureate memento and certificate.

We urge graduating seniors (May and August 2014) who see their own years at Penn State reflected in the Laureate criteria to apply. Please access the EMSAGE Web site at http://www.ems.psu.edu/EMSAGE for more information and for the application.

Note: Dean Shirer will host an EMSAGE Laureate application briefing (to answer whatever questions you have) on Monday, January 27th, 6-7pm in 10 Deike Bldg. If you intend to apply you are strongly encouraged to attend. This is the only briefing session offered this semester. Pizza will be served!

The application deadline is Friday, March 7, 2014 BY 12:00PM (NOON).

We urge all EMS freshmen, sophomores and juniors to embrace the EMSAGE spirit so that you will feel eligible to apply for Laureate status when your time to graduate approaches.

DONATE

Do you have any old cell phones, cameras, or mp3 players that you no longer use? Donate them to help benefit THON! The electronics do not have to be in working condition. The list of accepted items includes cell phone chargers and accessories, laptops, e-readers, handheld game systems, and portable hard drives. Every donation brings us one step closer to curing pediatric cancer! If interested please email EMSFundraising@psu.edu.

DONORS PLAY, EARN $1 FOR EMS EVERY WEEK:

Help the EMS Student Council and EMS Benefitting THON raise money by using your smartphone and follow these seven steps. There is no charge to you and this can be done every week!

- Step 1: Text “earth” to 650-319-7142.
- Step 2: Click link in the text.
- Step 3: Download the Donorsplay app.
- Step 4: Open Donorsplay.
- Step 5: Enter “earth” as our code.
- Step 6: Download test app (game).
- Step 7: Open test app and play it or leave it open for 5 minutes.

Every time you test an app, your phone number will be placed in a raffle. At the end of the year we'll choose a number from the raffle and the winner will get a $25 gift certificate to Kiwi Yogurt!

Thank you for your help!

PENN STATE TECH TUTORS HIRING STUDENTS FOR THE SPRING 2014

Tech Tutors work roughly eight hours a week and are paid hourly. We are looking for students who have good technology skills, but more importantly who are good communicators, enjoy working with people, and have patience in teaching situations. When hired, we will train the Tech Tutors on all of the technology skills they need to know in order to be prepared to tutor on different software topics.

To apply, students must fill out a short form and upload their cover letters and resumes here:
https://pennstate.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_e4WY4xuC59g5X0N.

GEOCORPS SUMMER 2014 INTERNSHIPS-APPLICATION DEADLINE FEB 4, 2014

Announcing Paid Internship Opportunities with the GeoCorps America -- a program of the Geological Society of America, in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management, and the National Park Service.

This awesome program offers paid short-term geoscience positions in some of the most beautiful natural areas in the world! GeoCorps project areas are diverse and include topics in geology, hydrology, paleontology, GIS mapping, minerals, soils, glaciology, geo-hazards, karst, education, interpretation, and many more topics.

Many geoscientists who presently work in agencies within the US Federal System got their start through the GeoCorps Program. This competitive internship program is highly recommended for those who may want to explore a career path in these agencies.

Note: Certain positions are suitable for those persons who might need accommodation, and other positions are designed with diversity candidates in mind. Native Americans are particularly encouraged to apply for specific positions.

To view the postings and for further application details, see this website:
http://rock.geosociety.org/g_corps/index.htm ((Click on the tabs at the top, just below the "GeoCorps America" in Red))

Applications are due February 4, 2014 at noon MST.
MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. COMMEMORATION

January marks the annual celebration and commemoration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The theme this year “Reflect on Yesterday, Experience Today. Transform Tomorrow.” Throughout the month, there will be scheduled activities and events at Penn State to celebrate Dr. King that include:
